

PRINCE OF WALES CENTRAL FIGURE

Felicitations Between England and United States at Quebec's Historic Celebration.

THREE HUNDRED YEARS AGO CITY WAS FOUNDED

Vice-President Fairbanks, as Representative of U. S. Delegates Happy Address.

QUEBEC, July 23.—The Prince of Wales was the central figure today in the morning spectacle reproducing Quebec's historic past and ushering in the three-hundredth anniversary of the founding of the city by Champlain.

Aside from the spectacular features of the event, it was the occasion of a notable exchange of addresses between Vice-President Fairbanks and the Prince of Wales, in which each spoke of the existing relations between the United States and Great Britain.

The king, whose earnest desire is always to promote the best and closest relations between the United States and Great Britain, as his representative, to convey to you, Mr. Vice-President of the United States, my warmest wishes.

An enormous crowd filled the Place d'Armes, the grandest monument where the exercises were held. Here the prince received the addresses of the American and French representatives, the mayor of Quebec, and finally Champlain himself, reproduced as in the days of old, coming from the mimic reproduction of his original spurs.

Elaborate Programme.

It was a splendid spectacle, carried out under bright skies, with a setting of this picturesque old city and its harbor, filled with a fleet of warships. Tonight the city and harbor are lit up with electric lights, marking every line of hull and rigging, while the parliament and many other buildings are similarly outlined with myriad of light.

From the citadel the prince is looking across the St. Lawrence at a gigantic display of fireworks on the heights of Levis, showing the fall of Montmorency, and the battles of Wolfe and Montcalm.

In addressing the prince during the exercises Vice President Fairbanks said:

Mr. Fairbanks's Address.

Your Royal Highness: I acknowledge with grateful appreciation the welcome which you so generously extend to me and my country.

Permit me to extend to you, my brother, the warmest wishes of the American people for the success of your royal highness and upon the entire of the celebration.

Historic Centuries.

Three hundred years is but a brief period in the history of England or France. It is all the more significant in the history of the United States.

Growth Yet to Come.

The United States and Canada have but fairly entered upon their careers. Each has vast areas either sparsely settled or unoccupied where many millions will be added to our population and to yours.

waters which divide us, and we believe, and fervently hope, that there will never be need of any defensive preparation between us.

No Reason for War.

As we behold this majestic celebration in which the representatives of different nations participate and witness the manifestations of a genuine fraternal spirit among them, we are impressed with the thought that there is no rational reason why nations should resort to war.

The Prince of Wales, in replying to the Vice President, said:

Response of the Prince.

The king, whose earnest desire is always to promote the best and closest relations between the United States and Great Britain, as his representative, to convey to you, Mr. Vice-President of the United States, my warmest wishes.
